

Currenex and Traiana Offer Straight-Through-Processing for Foreign Exchange Trades

Prime Brokers Deploy New Solution for Streamlined Trading

October 25, 2005—Traiana, Inc. and Currenex announced they have integrated their platforms to automate and streamline order processing for prime brokers conducting foreign exchange trades on the Currenex execution platform. Traiana and Currenex also announced their first joint-customer, ABN AMRO, who is live on the new solution.

The complete straight-through-processing integration of Currenex's platforms, the Traiana Harmony™ service and Traiana's Trading Relationship Management (Traiana TRM™) software will bring additional speed and seamlessness to the trade process.

Prime brokers can now receive immediate, electronic Currenex deal confirmations via the Traiana Harmony message center, meaning they can more effectively manage total positions, and provide their buy-side clients with increased efficiencies, improved reporting and reduced operational risk.

In total, Currenex and Traiana Harmony™ have achieved a seamless integration that automatically delivers trades from the Currenex platform to a number of its prime brokers who participate on Traiana Harmony™, allowing traders and portfolio managers to focus on trading decisions rather than pre and post trade decisions.

" We are happy to see the integration between Traiana and Currenex complete, as it will allow us to move one step further towards full STP. By becoming the first bank of the integrated offering, we shall be able to finally utilize the full capabilities of the latest version of TRM 4.0 that has already been deployed at ABN AMRO." Said Eisso Vandermeulen, Vice President, FXPB, ABN AMRO.

"Traiana's goal is to solve the puzzling inefficiencies built into the transaction processes at major banking and broker institutions," said Michael Laven, Executive Vice President of Traiana Inc. "Integrating with a prominent platform like Currenex adds an important piece to the automation puzzle, and takes us one step closer to our goal."

Clifford M Lewis, Chairman and CEO Currenex, said " With our integration to Traiana, Currenex can make use of Traiana Harmony™ for prime brokerage give ups in the most efficient manner.

The benefits in speed, accuracy and efficiency will be of great value to both our prime broker banks and buy-side clients.”
